The dark clouds come in and cover over everything, almost like night. Everything appears dismal and hopeless, with a sure storm to follow soon. We can't control it or change it. It seems inevitable, the storm is going to overtake us and unleash it's full fury onto us. We are without any protection or cover. Devastation is sure.

But then, in the middle of the dark clouds, there is a crack. A tiny ray of sunlight penetrates through. There is hope. There is a chance that the storm will not wreck it's havoc over us. We may have enough time to escape to a place of protection.

Actually, in the scene shown above, it never even rained a drop. But it sure looked bad. This is another image from Chester, PA. It could have been anywhere, and it is difficult to not have any wires, poles or buildings in any urban scene. But that is what makes photography so much fun.

You have received this new calendar each month, with new pictures and dates, as a free gift. You can print it, copy it and e-mail it to your hearts content. Send all subscription requests to doug@TheCreatorsFingerprints.com . When you are on our mailing list, you will be updated with events and new photo availability. We promise not to be a pest.

If you like this free calendar, feel free to e-mail this to your friends and family, so they can enjoy it also.

We are revived and ready for some more exhibitions. Our next show will be the juried Media Art and Craft on Sunday, June 3. The following week we will be at the Merchantville, NJ "Birthday" street fair, on Saturday June 9. These are outdoor shows where they shut down main street and have artists lining the streets. These are a lot of fun. We have many more prints available at the shows than on-line, and they are color-match matted and ready for framing. I really hope to see you there.

A new event we have been invited to participate is the Media PA "Second Saturday". The businesses on and around State Street in Media will stay open late as part of a free arts event. From 6:00 to 9:00 pm, shops, galleries and cafes host local musicians or display the work of local artists.

Visitors stroll the friendly streets of Media to find music, art and participating shops.

This month, on June 9, we will have our prints at Karen's Hallmark at 8 East State Street and we will be there to act like artists. This should fun.

On our website, we have updated and added to many different pages. But I spent some extra time to split up the Faith and Spirituality page into four separate pages. I also added some blogging around the Atheist material. It is amazing what is being said on the web. Check it out at <http://www.thecreatorsfingerprints.com/links-5-Christianity.htm> .

We have also added some images onto the gallery pages. Find them at <http://www.TheCreatorsFingerprints.com/gallery.htm> .

See you next month and stay out of the summer storms.

The Creator's Fingerprints

Doug Haas Nature Photography

Nature is so incredibly diverse, interweaving soft textures with rough elements, adding a splash of color amid dull backgrounds, bold designs among camouflage and secrecy. The variety of shapes and patterns seem limitless. And it all coexists and fits together seamlessly. Often inspiring, mysterious beyond rational explanation, we look to nature to understand our place in the universe, to realize we are part of an incredible, intelligent design.

But much of this beauty goes unseen and unappreciated. My wife Chris and I are always looking for those special images which most people just walk past. It is not necessary to visit exotic far off places. Many stunning images are right in our backyard. We especially marvel over the tiny or insignificant; fungi, centipedes, or fallen autumn leaves. Using our macro lens, close up photos of the ordinary shows detail that is dramatic or vibrant. Then looking across the large panoramic overlooks we drink in the immensity of our surroundings. And we are always looking for the unusual, odd and often fantastic scenes. We love to be artistically moody or abstract, offering prints which are beautiful and interesting.

Prints from Doug Haas Nature Photography will always be eye catching hanging on your wall, in your house or office. We try to capture beauty, things unusual or interesting; hopefully all three. They also make great gifts which show the recipient that you care and you have great taste. Gift certificates are available. The prints are professionally printed on archival paper with non-fading inks, and should last a lifetime. Total satisfaction or your money back.
